BEST WITH

Ideal for all types of salads, aperitifs, fish, vegetables, cheeses, white meat, light rice and soft food.

VINIFICATION

The grapes are harvested separately and at night to avoid oxidation. The fermentation with maceration is also performed separately and at low temperatures, between 59°F and 64°F (15-18°C) in order to preserve and concentrate aromas. Later they perform malolactic fermentation in contact with softly toasted oak in order to add longevity and structure to the contribution of tannins. Both wines are mixed together and filtered just before the bottling.
